

+ summary

I am a tech enthusiast and psychology lover. Always love to learn about new things in the tech world and industry, the reason why I am part of many tech communities in Delhi. I love to learn and try new things. Love to participate in hackathons, that made me productive as well as fun working in teams. Apart from this, I love to read and learn about psychology and related stuff, this helps me understand human and its nature, this helps me in programs related to marketing and promotions.

I am trilingual, speaking English, Hindi, Punjabi.

In my free time, either I am learning new skills or doing exercise, or listen to people around me about their problems because spreading happiness is my mission apart from other things.
